

CMPNY COWORK

Work space that works

Facebook: @CMPNYcowork Instagram: @cmpnycowork Twitter: @cmpnycowork

CMPNY COWORK is the community based workspace with locations in the heart of Coquitlam and Burnaby, B.C. The world of work has changed and CMPNY provides office space, whether you need a desk or a full private office. Short-term leases and the ability to scale your space up or down on demand help take the risk out of renting office space.

"Here at CMPNY we believe small business, startups and contract workers are the future of business in Canada," says David Morton, Director of Marketing and Sales. "In a world with declining corporate support for employees, independents and contractors have a new set of needs from previous generations of workers. Successfully running a business today takes grit, constant learning and the right environment, so we strive to provide these three crucial elements to our members."

CMPNY not only provides a desk and chair, members gather for social events and business development GRIIT classes where they learn how to optimize their work.

"We symbolize the new place that the world has turned to and our hard working community is tight knit and inviting to anyone hustling toward their goals," says CMPNY founder Darryl Bosa. "Sign up for a tour to see the space at CMPNY.com and stay for a free day of coworking. At either location, you'll always be in good CMPNY."

Founded in 2016 in Burnaby, CMPNY expanded to Coquitlam shortly after. Taking inspiration from his family members, who include a number of successful entrepreneurs, Darryl and his team stay dedicated to supporting the business community and the people going out every day to get it done and make their dreams become realities.

"At the end of the day I want to foster a community of people who take their future into their own hands and go get what they want," says Bosa.

NUBARE

Caring glowing, naturally gorgeous skin

Facebook: @nubare Instagram: @nubarekare

KAREN is a Japan modelling for skincare products who has been featured in Vibe magazine. She is the founder of Nubare and one of Canada's top facialists.

Recently, Stevenson works with clients of all ages. She uses the safety of well-tolerated, natural ingredients and maintains glowing skin every single day.

Stevenson meets with clients of all ages to build a long-term relationship and help them know their skin.

"I have a lot of clients who are in their 20s, 30s, 40s, 50s, 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s, and 100s. I have seen every skin type and every skin tone."

the famous Fire and Ice facial, known as the go-to treatment for celebrities before major red carpet events because of its ability to bring "a luxurious, major glow" to the skin.

Recently, Stevenson launched her own line of skincare products, nubarenaturals, which are eco-friendly, vegan, paraben, sulphate-free, and made in Canada.

"I like the ability to switch between brands and products, and clients like the option of 100 per cent natural," Stevenson says.

Nubarenaturals, which can be purchased from Stevenson's online store as well as in person, was inspired by her time modelling in Japan and includes products like the All Japan Shikito Green Tea Eye Gel, which Stevenson swears by for depuffing dark under-eye circles, "especially in Calgary, where allergies can get so bad!" "I basically work in a candy store," Stevenson jokes. "I treat my client's skin with all kinds of amazing goodies and I get to see people really, really happy with their results."

To see videos of how Nubare's different treatments work, you can visit Nubare's different Instagram page @nubarekare, or book a free half-hour consultation to get Stevenson's expertise on where to start.
